Policewoman Sigrig Oakley Retires After 29 Years

Sigrig Oakley, who holds Albany policewoman's badge No. 1, retires this week after 29 years with Albany Police Department.

Although her retirement is not official until January, she has accumulated leave which she will be taking in advance.

Sigrig was appointed as major-clerk of the department July 1, 1940. On Jan. 20, 1949, she was appointed to the newly-created post of policewoman-clerk.

When she joined the department, it had eight members, including the chief. Today there are 23 members in the force, plus a civilian dispatch-clerk. There are four policewoman-clerks.

Mrs. Oakley has served under three police chiefs, Lloyd Jester, the late Stanley Williams and Ralph Jensen.

Others in the department in 1940 were Arthur K. Smith, now an inspector; Frank S. Davis, who has retired; the late Kenneth Nickerson, John Viarengo, chief of police in Turlock, John MacCann, who recently retired from the Berkeley Police Department, and W. A. Hyde, now chief of police in Palo Alto.

Jester, who was inspector in the Alameda County district attorney's office, now works in Albany as security officer for Jay-Vee Liquors.

Sigrig has seen many changes in Albany and in police work in 29 years. The population has grown from about 11,400 to more than 17,000.

When she started, one blast on an air whistle summoned the chief; three blasts brought an officer. Officers in patrol cars had radios but the Albany department did not have the equipment to send messages. The Albany dispatcher telephoned Berkeley police to broadcast to Albany officers, but the Albany desk had no way of knowing if the message had been received unless that officer called in from a call box.

In 1943, after Knapp's Liquors and the Duo club were burglarized, local businessmen collected funds to purchase a two-way radio system, permitting the dispatcher to receive and send calls to local officers.

Lions' Banquet

Ray DeJong Has Good Advice for Football Team

Ray DeJong of 1027 Ordway, head coach at South San Francisco high school, had some good advice for young athletes as guest speaker at the 13th annual Albany Lions club football banquet last Wednesday.

DeJong told the football players that although their year had not been a good one, the important things were how they played the game and what they put in and got out of it.

He urged the boys to set their sights high in life and dream of hitting the top. If it doesn't happen, be realistic about it, he said.

It is important for each player to put the team before himself, DeJong said, urging them to avoid temptations, which are more numerous today than when he went to high school.

"Stay away from drugs," he said. "Know right from wrong. You are the leaders. Don't bring discredit on your block award or your team."

The speaker urged the boys to keep girl friends in the proper perspective. "Don't let them lead you around by the nose."

His third admonition was to avoid owning a car, which boys have to first buy and then support, often making it necessary to get a job and give up sports.

"Football is important, but not the only thing," he said. "Open those books. You may be able to go on to college."

Albany High Speakers At Rotary

The three winners of the Veterans of Foreign Wars contest spoke before the joint meeting of Albany Rotary club at Spenger's Tuesday, Nov. 12.

The speakers were Kevin O'Gorman, who previously won first prize, Bob Nora, and Curt Pihl.

The men from Rotary said they had never heard better direction or better speeches anywhere.

Harry Price, principal of Albany High, escorted the three speakers.

The next contest is in the American Legion with speakers Curt Pihl and Kevin O'Gorman representing two Legion posts in the Bay Area. Richard Hillman is their teacher.

Waterfront Discussion Prolongs Council Meeting

Despite an effort by Albany City Councilmen not to be drawn into a discussion of the waterfront because of pending litigation, almost everyone got into the act Monday night under "Good of the City."

Two members of the Albany Bay committee, Ray Redel and Mrs. W. F. Ganong, were in the audience. A letter from Mrs. Ganong (see letters today) asking Council to halt filling the Bay in view of the Supreme Court decision that Emeryville must stop was referred to City Attorney Larry Saler without comment.

When the meeting was opened to the audience at the end of the formal session, Ray Talley criticized the Bay committee, saying they seemed to be for centralization, adding that the Bay Conservation and Development Commission is "using our money to fight us." While he was at it, he said no organization has cost Albany more money than ABC, that it is responsible for the confusion and trouble in which "a small sore has grown to a big cancer."

Doubts Sincerity
Councilman H. F. Call said

when he had appealed for help to save the top of Albany Hill for a park, not one person came forward. He said inasmuch as they show so much concern for one thing and not another, he doubts their sincerity.

Ralph Buckwalter expressed surprise that the Sierra club had lowered themselves to a "local dispute of this kind." He said they say Albany has no plan, but the city does.

Councilman Joe Carlevaro said a marina on the waterfront has been the dream of many Albany people for many years. He stressed that the refuse area is not a dump.

Raw Garbage
Call said to the north and south of Albany they are dumping raw garbage in the Bay every year. He displayed a sheaf of colored pictures of the Berkeley fill, where he said, "they are dumping tons and tons of raw garbage into our water every day." He added that Albany residents should be proud that no raw garbage is going into their landfill.

Call went on to criticize Albany people "who join the people of Suggested gift items are canned nuts, canned candy, canned puddings and nutbreads, small salamis, bread sticks, pen-sized flashlights, pocket books, cartoon books, travel packs of stationery, shoe shine pads, soap, skin fresheners, fruit cakes (1 lb.), small Mission fruit packs, chap sticks, etc.

Join the Chamber of Commerce today in sending a home-town "Merry Christmas" to every Albany serviceman who is on foreign soil and won't be home for the holiday season.

Sigrid Oakley, who has been the friendly voice of Albany police for 29 years, retires this week. She is shown at the switchboard in the modern station at 1000 San Pablo Ave., a far cry from the screeching whistle used to summon officers when she started in 1940. —Simmons Photo.

Sigrid Oakley

Her expansion led to three communications, enabling her to contact each other as well as the desk. Point to point later linked Albany to the Motor Vehicle department in Sacramento and to other parts of California. A teletype unit is used for nationwide communications.

She recently became part of a sophisticated PIN system, local police information network which uses data processing instantaneous information from stolen autos or outstanding warrants.

Her headquarters have moved three times during Sigrid's tenure. At first, the police station was a room in city hall. In 1939, they found quarters in a converted room house at 805 San Pablo. In 1965, it was moved to spacious, carefully-planned quarters in the Civic Center at 1000 San Pablo Ave.

When she moved to the new station, Sigrid had to give up her 30-year-old board she had manned for a quarter of a century. She delighted when Pacific Telephone company officials presented her with a gift. A graduate of the University of Oregon, Sigrid holds a bachelor's degree in business administration. She believes the degree is the reason she was only rejected from a field of applicants.

She has been active in PTA, a member of Women Peace Officers Association, which has presented her with a life membership, and a past president and active member of Alberico Business and Professional Women's club.

An expert photographer, she has taken many fine colored slides of her trips to Europe, Mexico, Central America, Alaska and points of interest in the United States. She collects stamps and old insulators, is considered an expert palm reader, swims and is currently taking golf lessons at Golden Gate Fields course with a group of Albany friends.

Mrs. Oakley has a son, two grandchildren and a sister.

She plans to relax, clean cupboards, work in her garden and perhaps sail under the Golden Gate bridge on an Australia-bound freighter to visit cousins.

It won't seem the same without Sigrid at the police station, but we join all her friends in wishing her a happy retirement.

Public Hearing May Be Held on Dog Problem

Councilman Lewis Howell suggested a public hearing on Albany's dog problem during the Council session Nov. 12.

Communications protesting damage and mess because of dogs, including a petition signed by 79 residents, were referred to Administrative Officer James B. Turner for answering.

Howell said that in the past he has been opposed to a leash law, but he now believes corrective measures must be taken. Howell's motion that a letter from Council to Sacramento regarding an amendment to Proposition 1A was adopted. He suggested an amendment allowing application for the property owners' refund to be made by mail rather than in person.

Pacific Telephone company informed Council that their facilities will be removed from Masonic Avenue by Nov. 25. Turner said the date would make it possible to award the contract for street widening to Lee J. Immel, which was unanimously done.

A letter from W. A. Johnson recommending procedure for selecting an architect for the waterfront was referred to the Waterfront Screening committee. The annual audit by D. A. Sargent and company was accepted. On Turner's recommendation, Council directed the advertising for bids for traffic signals at Jackson and Buchanan (see page 4 today).

Two resolutions dealing with transfer of property from Southern Pacific to Albany and from Albany to the State of California involved in the Buchanan overpass project were unanimously adopted as was a resolution authorizing the Fire Chief to execute an agreement for temporary transfer of vehicular equipment for civil defense purposes.

A complaint about the police department by Chuck Byers of 764 Pierce St. was referred to the Chief of Police, who was requested to submit a complete report of the incident. The meeting adjourned at 8:50 p.m.

discovered the bees and the honey, which they never dreamed were there. Virgil Davis, an Albany beekeeper, was to remove the bees and save the honey this past weekend.

CORA JEPSON of 812 Adams came in with a clipping from the Washington Evening Star the other day, a picture showing Lance Cpl. Vernon Sorenson of Albany, Calif., being hugged by the mother of a boy who died saving the lives of Sorenson and another Marine. Mrs. Jepson brought the picture home, thinking she'd easily find Sorenson's parents, but she couldn't even find a Sorenson who knows him. So she's asked us to mention it to see if the parents can be found through this column. We have the clipping at the Times.

ANIMAL CONTROL Officer John Savers has nothing but sympathy for people who call him to come and look at damage dogs have done to their property. Not only the "calling cards," but lawns and plants dug up. He says there are 1,300 dogs in Albany, but only about 50 causing the trouble. That, of course, means that owners of 1,250 dogs keep them in control.

ENJOYED the annual Lions club football banquet the other night. One thing about it, they may not be the champs, but the boys on the squad are a nice-looking, clean cut bunch. Think the adults there were as proud of that fact as they might have been if the young men had headed the league.

Berkeley to do everything to kill our operation and go on with their own."

Mrs. Ganong admitted she is not as concerned with Berkeley as with Albany. Ray Redel expanded this to state that, according to the "grandfather clause" added when BCDC was created, Berkeley is operating legally.

No Project

"I'm sorry about it," he said. "I hate to see garbage in the Bay for any reason." He said the Supreme Court decision stating Emeryville has no right to fill without permission from BCDC "will deeply affect Albany." Under the interpretation, Redel said Albany has no project, which must be very definite and detailed.

At this point, Councilman Lew is Howell said, "Here we are again. Who says who can do what? . . . I don't know where we haven't tried. . . . We're planning water-oriented businesses. . . . can't see where we haven't gone along with BCDC."

Talley said he had originally joined Albany Bay committee, believing they stood for the same things he does. The organization, he said, gave unanimous approval to Albany's general plan and then within a week, he received a letter from the committee asking him to go to Council and make Albany stop filling the Bay. When he asked for the reasoning behind the switch, he said, they told him they had changed their minds.

Unsanitary

Howell called the Berkeley fill "the most unsanitary thing." He said newspapers should go out and take pictures of Albany and Berkeley fills to show the difference.

Redel said the only difference is that Berkeley has a permit. He added he does not approve of Berkeley, but under the Grandfather Clause, it is there and it is legal.

"If you find a way to fight Berkeley, I'll be glad to join you," he offered.

Carlevaro commended Redel for "finally admitting publicly that he doesn't like garbage dumped in Berkeley."

Mayor Richard Clark said he wanted to clarify the intimation that Albany is doing something illegal. He said the Supreme Court has never said Albany was doing anything illegal.

Howell added that in Sacramento, Albany was told it was under the Grandfather Clause.

Other Matters

By comparison, the rest of the meeting was fairly routine.

A new batch of dog complaints plus one complaint about cats was referred to Administrative Officer James B. Turner and Saler.

A work session will be held within two weeks to discuss budget re-evaluation with the Police and Fire Civil Service club.

Mayor Clark was authorized to proclaim Nov. 18-24 as Albany Chamber of Commerce "Overseas Yule Pool Week."

A public hearing was set for Dec. 16 on the proposal of Christian Science church to install a sign.

Council unanimously adopted the suggestion of Police Chief Ralph Jensen to ask the County Board of Supervisors for more personnel in the Berkeley office of the District Attorney. Jensen's letter stating he did not think it would be well to ask for legislation making it illegal for anyone under 21 to cross the border into Mexico was filed.

Bids for the traffic signals at Jackson-Buchanan will be called for on Dec. 9. A week's leave of absence without pay for Johnnie Grisham, who plans to return to work Dec. 2, was granted.

A library matter was held over one week.

Call brought up the matter of filling the city clerk's position and submitted the name of John Klavohn in nomination. Howell said it should be considered at a personnel session, so Call agreed it would be discussed at a personnel session, when other nominations could be considered.

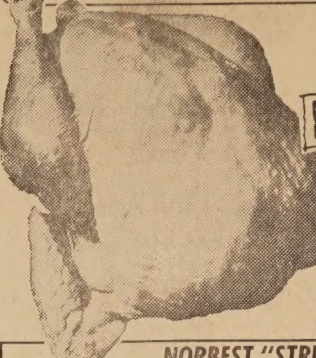

Carlevaro asked Turner if he is going to fill the electrical inspector's post and was told by Turner that the work load is one third to one fourth of normal and that he does not feel pressed to fill it at this time.

Prior to the Council meeting, Mayor Clark presented prizes to winners of the recent Traffic and Safety commission essay contest on Fire Prevention (see separate story).

The meeting adjourned about 9:15 p.m.

AC Transit Proposes Albany Meeting

An exploratory meeting with Albany officials to consider possible future transit needs of the city has been proposed by AC
Transit.

Alan L. Bingham, AC Transit general manager, has suggested to Mayor Richard O. Clark and members of the Albany City Council that a session be held to take an "inventory of present thinking" as to future local requirements which may be placed on public transit—particularly as to any new types of operating systems.

The proposal follows the transit district's pledged interest in developing a "transit laboratory" in the East Bay, to test new and imaginative concepts of local and feeder-type transportation services which could help to develop greater public use of mass
transit.

Guess who just turned 17. The Water Pollution Control
Division of the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

For 17 years we've been keeping the water off the shores

Clean enough for you and your kids to swim in.

How? Simple. Our equipment is excellent and so is our staff. As a matter of fact, we've got what we think is one of the most efficient and up to date water pollution control systems in the country.

So the next time you're out enjoying the Bay, think of us for a minute. After all, we've been thinking of you

Benedix-Rinna Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rinna
(Audrey Benedix)

—Malone Photo.

St. John's Lutheran church was the site of nuptial rites uniting in marriage Audrey Benedix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Benedix of Valley Home, and Fred Rinna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rinna of Albany.

The bride's cousin, the Rev. Gary Benedix, conducted the evening ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length skimmer of silk organza with a yoke of chantilly lace. A taffeta pillbox secured her mantilla, which fell into a chapel train. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and roses.

Miss Rickey Benedix was maid of honor and Mrs. Joe LaTosa was bridesmaid. They wore green chiffon and their matching veils were held in place by cluster headpieces. They carried nosegays of pink and white carnations. Lenore Duncan was flower girl for her aunt, wearing matching attire.

Soroptimists Receive Honor

The Soroptimist Club of Albany, a member of the Southwestern Region of the Soroptimist International of the Americas, Inc., has received a Certificate of Appreciation from Save the Children Federation, headquartered in Norwalk, Connecticut, for a thoughtful contribution toward the Federation's Self-Help program which helps children, their families and communities in the disadvantaged areas.

The certificate thanked the organization for its kindness and generosity to needy children in underprivileged and disaster areas in the United States and abroad. It was signed by E. C. Kip Finch, chairman of the Federation's Board of Directors, and Glen Leet, executive director.

A total of six Soroptimist clubs in the Southwestern Region donated to the Federation's Self-Help Fund.

ECOLOGY ACTION EXHIBIT AT LIBRARY

An exhibit prepared by "Ecology Action" is being shown at the Albany Library during the month of November.

Ecology is the study of all living organisms and their relationships with their environment. "Ecology Action," a local group organized by Chris Humphrey, states: "The study of ecology is rapidly destroying man's myth of superabundance, and with it the notion that he can shape the earth to suit his every desire. A massive accumulation of evidence demonstrates that man dwells within a living household of limited proportions."

"We are beginning only now to learn how much damage our household can absorb and still furnish us with enough pure air, clean water, and nutritious food. In this era of unprecedented population growth we will survive only if we learn to understand this living household."

Mary Humphrey, the wife of Chris Humphrey, whose paintings are on exhibit at the library during November, describes the philosophy of "Ecology Action": "There is not one correct way to solve the problems facing mankind. Each person, once aware, should work in a way that is personally relevant."

"Ecology Action" may be reached at the following number: 845-7342.

Lt. George Burman In Sea Rescue

Navy Lieutenant (junior grade) George A. Burman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Burman of 1028 Peralta Ave., Albany, participated in the rescue of two downed Marine Corps pilots in the South China Sea, while serving aboard the USS Towers.

The Towers, a guided missile destroyer, received the word that the Marine pilots had been hit by ground fire. They were flying as spotters for the battleship USS New Jersey, who along with the Towers, was providing gun-fire support for the Third Marine Amphibious force.

The pilots were spotted as they parachuted into the water about three miles off the coast. A small boat was sent out when the pilots were within 100 yards of the Towers. The small-boat crew was surprised when one of the pilots greeted them with, "What's for chow."

PG&E Offers Bay Area Grocers Schools New Film Series

For the sixth consecutive year, a series of award-winning motion picture documentaries will be made available to junior and senior high school students, without charge, as a public service of Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

The first episode in these series of films on world events and timely subjects is entitled "Communism In Conflict - The Death of a Dream." This film examines Czechoslovakia's centuries-old struggle for self-determination, and the intervention of the Warsaw Pact nations that crushed this idea for "democratization."

A subsidiary of Hearst Metro-Nome News, Inc., Screen News Digest, now in its 11th year, said that at least two of the pictures will be shown in color.

The first of these will be a report on the exploration of the sky and the sea through the Apollo and Seabla projects. The Apollo portion will show Astronaut Edward White's "walk in space" and the Seabla portion will show the ocean depths and frontiers of the silent world.

The second color subject is scheduled for release in February and will depict the making of a president—from primary campaigns to Inauguration Day.

Also scheduled during the 1968-1969 school year are stories on the civil war between Nigeria and Biafra, the increasing problems of urban living and new horizons in science.

The Digest is released in nine monthly issues, 20 minutes in length, during the school year.

Albany Students Score High in Reading Tests

In answer to continuing union pressure to stop selling California table grapes, Bay Area supermarket operators have announced their intention to continue the sale of grapes so long as there is a consumer demand for them.

A spokesman for the Bay Area Grocers association said that there is no labor dispute between its members and any of the unions with which they have contractual relations. The statement indicated that removal of California table grapes from sale involved a trade or merchandising decision only.

Stanley F. Johnson, executive director, Bay Area Grocers association, Oakland, said that member stores will take no part in the dispute between grape growers and the United Farm Workers. Johnson said "Our members consider it their primary duty to make food available to the general public. In the case of California table grapes, grocers will continue to offer them for sale to the consumer and it will be strictly up to the consumer to buy or not."

Glare Screen Approved

Funds to construct a glare screen along the four mile section of Interstate 80 between the distribution structure in Oakland and the El Cerrito overhead in Albany have been approved by the California Highway Commission.

The favorable action occurred in Bakersfield during the Commission's October business meeting and was based on the recommendations of James A. Moe, State Director of Public Works.

The sum of $47,000 was allocated to the project. Moe cited the improved night time traffic safety that resulted on an adjacent five mile stretch of I-80 after a similar glare screen was constructed on the median barrier railing.

"The existing glare screen, which ends at the El Cerrito overhead, filters the glare of oncoming headlights," Moe explained, "and also reduces the tendency of opposing traffic to slow down to better observe any traffic incident that might occur in the opposite lanes."

DENTISTS MEET

Dentists from Albany have been invited to attend the 70th annual meeting of the Alumni Association of the School of Dentistry, University of the Pacific (formerly College of Physicians & Surgeons), on Nov. 21 and 22 in San Francisco's St. Francis hotel. Those who may attend are Dr. Robert J. Bacigalupi, Dr. Leonard L. F. Ling, Dr. Albert R. Vogelmann.

Superintendent Kenneth Forry expressed satisfaction with the report stating, "These are due to a number of factors including a well trained and located teaching staff, the use of the best instructional materials, remedial reading programs, pupils having difficulty, excellent elementary school program. The homes in which our children came from rich backgrounds, and our parents and citizens have given Albany schools the moral support and cooperation."

scored in the state top and only seven per cent in bottom quarter. Tenth graders had an average of 31.7 compared to 31.7 for the state.

A similar report presented the Board a year ago also showed practically identical high reading scores for Albany pupils.

The report concluded that Albany students rank consistently higher than published state norms for all grades. This relative success obtains for all grade levels and for all categories of students. Our top and middle students tend to score higher than our bottom students tend to score as low in reading.

Superintendent Kenneth Forry expressed satisfaction with the report stating, "These are due to a number of factors including a well trained and located teaching staff, the use of the best instructional materials, remedial reading programs, pupils having difficulty, excellent elementary school program. Copy of Letter to City Council:

The unanimous decision by the California Supreme Court which in effect stops the City of Emeryville from any filling of the Bay without a prior permit by the Bay Conservation and Development Commission deeply affects the City of Albany.

In its reported opinion the High Court defines the term "project" as a "detailed and specific plan, prepared in furtherance of a determination to accomplish a certain objective." Since Albany has neither a project as defined by the High Court nor a permit by the Bay Commission it seems that our City's conduct in placing refuse and fill into the Bay is improper and illegal.

We urge the City Council to discontinue all filling now, before this City becomes more enmeshed in what seems clearly is illegal and is potentially a very costly activity. Then we can proceed in proper fashion to plan a project for the Albany waterfront.

MRS. W. F. GANONG

Editor, the Times:

Since the days of the covered wagon, Americans have shown a deep respect for the educated man, amounting at times to a sort of idol-worship. Education was regarded by some as the open sesame to all happiness and success, perhaps an end in itself. Possibly more important qualifications, such as integrity, common sense, and foresight were overlooked. How many of our top educators possess these latter attributes?

Public Invited to School Board Meeting Nov. 26

The Albany Board of Education will meet in the Albany High School Little Theater on Tuesday, Nov. 26, at 7:30 p.m. The public is urged to attend.

The primary purpose of the Nov. 26 Board of Education meeting is to review the implications of Senate Bill 1 which was adopted by the Governor and is now known as the George Miller, Jr., Education Act of 1968.

Senate Bill 1 is considered as probably the most significant legislation concerning the public schools of California to have been passed in many, many years. The purpose of the bill is to allow the local Boards of Education greater authority in determining the curriculum and course content for the local school district and community.

The Albany Board and teaching staff have been studying various aspects of Senate Bill 1. The community needs to be informed. The discussion on Nov. 26 will be based on a presentation of material developed by Carl Couch, vice principal of Albany High School and Mrs. Dorothy Irvin, principal of Vista and MacGregor schools.

The action to hold the Nov. 26 meeting in the Albany High School Little Theater was taken by the Board of Education at the regular meeting Nov. 12.

In other action Nov. 12, President Charles Pinkham called attention to the fact that the contract of the Superintendent, Kenneth M. Forry expires on June 30, 1969, which will complete 12 years of service to the school district and community. Pinkham pointed out that the Education Code requires the Board to act upon the contract of the Superintendent six months in advance of its expiration or it would automatically be renewed by default.

On motion by Board Member Nehls, seconded by Board Member Porter and unanimously carried, Kenneth M. Forry was offered a new four year contract as Superintendent of the Albany Unified School District and secretary to the Board of Education beginning July 1, 1969.

Forry said he was pleased and honored to accept the contract to continue serving the children and youth of the Albany schools under the leadership of the Board of Education.
